

Re: RosAsm

Source: <http://coding.derkeiler.com/Archive/Assembler/alt.lang.asm/2004-04/0820.html>

From: The Wannabee (faq_at_@.@.@@szmyggenpv.com)

Date: 04/30/04

Date: Fri, 30 Apr 2004 01:28:17 +0200

På 29 Apr 2004 22:59:41 GMT, skrev Betov <betov@free.fr>:

> "Beth" <BethStone21@hotmail.NOSPICEDHAM.com> écrivait news:Zrfkc.1711
> $74.1534@newsfe1-win:
>
>> *Ah, what you mean is: "Why haven't you got anything like Beth's
>> 'instant assembly' ideas in RosAsm?"...*
>
> I just hope this is not what he means. Not that 'instant > assembly' would be a bad idea. The problem is just that > ideas are cheaper than implementations...
>
> *Finally, the main difference between BethTool and RosAsm > is less with 'instant assembly' than with... 'existence'.
> :))*

Lol. You are too cruel. Beth is just thinking about it. But no, I was not really thinking about instant asm. I was thinking about getting rid of all kinds of multiple files. But to be able to update the resources as well, so that they could change while exe runs. But I guess, not possible ? And embedded directory, inside the exe. ?

>
> Betov.
>
> < <http://betov.free.fr/RosAsm.html> >

--
If I am going to shit pepper, then I am going to aim for you.(Hutch)
)*(/ \