You posted this at 25 past 5 or so. Did you really not see Santosh's and keith's admonishments from 20 minutes earlier? And dont come out with that "my news server was behind" nonsense.

I am using google groups to post and yes, there IS a lag. Do a post and refresh a few times. It can take up to 10 minutes for your comment to post and I imagine it can take just as long for someone else's post to show.

Please stop spamming this NG with your petty net nannying. If you wish to continue doing this please at least post something pertinent to the question as Keith has the common sense to do.

I apologize for spamming the newsgroup and I'll chop and bottom post from now on, but for someone so insistent on netequette, you sure could learn a little tact yourself.
