Hi John,

Any chance of releasing the source? I use this tool on a daily basis for C++. It doesn't handle preprocessor directives (e.g. #define) the way I'd like, and I don't see how to configure it for that.

I've been manually editing the HTML for 3 years now, so it's time I said something. <g>

I know better than to ask you for a fix because I suspect that on your priorities list, this is the lowest member of the food chain (soon to be replaced by the rat.)
