I asked the news stand here, Narvesen, member of the largest chain here in Norway, and they said "it doesn't sell well enough" so they have dropped it. A shame!!

It was PC Plus that introduced me to Delphi!

In the nineties they had a whole wall dedicated to computer mags, now they have 3-4 magazines, and those are mostly about games, no programming.

PC Plus was at a time my main contributor to my professional knowledge, and while you can find so much on the Internet, you cannot (at least I don't) take you PC out in the garden and read while enjoying the sun.
