

Re: Where to buy in Montreal (Atmel, Motorola)

Re: Where to buy in Montreal (Atmel, Motorola)

---

Source: <http://coding.derkeiler.com/Archive/General/comp.arch.embedded/2005-05/msg00940.html>

---

- From: Magnus McElroy <"[myfirstname]"@habitresearch.[com]>
  - Date: Tue, 31 May 2005 15:59:08 GMT
-

Simon wrote:

Hi, I would like to know if someone knows a place in Montreal where I can buy easily microprocessor chips. I'm searching for Atmel or Motorola. Active doesn't seem to have what I want in stock.

<http://www.diqikey.ca/>

The prices are all Canadian if you use the .ca suffix. Each order will cost you $8 shipping for next day delivery via Purolator (i.e. Canada Post) If you have to have it by tomorrow, that's the way to go.

Otherwise, check your yellow pages under "electronics". A quick search of Canada411.ca for "Montreal" and "Electronics" with the subcategory "Electronic Equipment & Supplies Retail" resulted in 53 results.

If you only want a few, request samples from the manufacturers. Microchip usually gets me samples in three days.

--

Magnus McElroy
Electrical Engineer (EIT)
HABIT Research
(250) 381-9425
.