yes, I've got a license, and no, there is no Windows-style IDE. On the other hand, Emacs+SLIME is a great IDE for any lisp.

I'm very close to buying one, probably the 12 or 13 inch.

So it's pretty straightforward to get Emacs, SLIME, etc up and running on the new machines? Which Emacs binary version is best to use for the least hassle?
