Why?

For the same reason that a farmer doesn't plow his fields with a monkey.

I don't know, why does a farmer not plow his fields with a monkey?

Because that's not what you plow with... you plow with a plow.

Re: htm vs. php problem

Actually, you plough with a plough. Also, couldn't a farmer buy a plough for 500 pounds and thus "plough his fields with a monkey"?

He could pay for it with a cheque too.

Thanks for adding nothing to the conversation, being wrong and arrogant.
