Hi All,

My Client is about to create their third subscription based site. Basically it is for health clubs who have a website but little or no content.

We will provide health clubs and others in the fitness industry a monthly online magazine that will update with a fresh issue each month.

we would like to create a site where businesses can subscribe and have their own custom version of the online magazine on their site.

They would have an admin account where they could login and add their own banners, and free passes.

We do something similar for the personal training industry now where trainers can subscribe and customize their newsletter and we send out two fresh newsletters to their clients on their behalf.

We do not need web design, or screen mock ups. We can provide all of that. All we need from you is to develop a bug free software application and integrate it with our merchant account.

I have a lot of experience with developers and I have to be honest that I have yet to work with a company who does not program themselves into a corner. What I m looking for is a company that we can work with on future products (I have several more ready to go) and who could provide ongoing support with enchantments and upgrades.

Please send me a list of references and other similar site that you have worked on in the last two years along with a quote for our proposed project.

Thanks,
KR
