Hi All,

I've got something on my little mind, and please keep in mind I'm still somewhat new to PHP Oop, so please excuse my silly ass if I ask something that should be obvious.

I've got an application that I'm re-writing from PERL to PHP Oop. At the beginning of the application, at log in, a session is created for this user. What I would like to do is create a user object and store object properties in that session.

So, if I create a user object, set the properties of said user object and store that object in the user session will that object be available throughout the application from the session?

thanks,
