

off topic Re: free servers wanted

Source: <http://coding.derkeiler.com/Archive/Perl/perl.beginners/2008-03/msg00107.html>

- From: itshardtogetone@xxxxxxxxxxx
 - Date: Sun, 9 Mar 2008 11:21:15 +0800
-

Thanks everyone for the help. Originally I intent to use sambar but it has recently discontinue. I wanted to use apache but it seems quite difficult to get it up, please correct me if I am wrong.

As I am getting the server just to run my perl script in MS Internet explorer, for learning purposes, I want something easy to install and get it up running.

Thanks

----- Original Message ----- From: "Gunnar Hjalmarsson" <noreply@xxxxxxxxxx>
To: <beginners@xxxxxxxxxx>
Sent: Sunday, March 09, 2008 9:38 AM
Subject: Re: free servers wanted

Wolf wrote:

----- itshardtogetone@xxxxxxxxxxx wrote:

I wish to run my perl/cgi scripts from Windows Internet explorer in offline mode, therefore I need to activate some kind of servers, can someone here recommend me some free servers.

<http://www.apache.org>

You'll also want to get php and mysql from <http://www.php.net> and <http://www.mysql.com>

Or you can get all of it (well, not MySQL,) in one bundle at <http://www.indigostar.com/indigoperl.htm>

--

Gunnar Hjalmarsson
Email: <http://www.gunnar.cc/cgi-bin/contact.pl>

--

To unsubscribe, e-mail: beginners-unsubscribe@xxxxxxxxxx

off topic Re: free servers wanted

For additional commands, e-mail: beginners-help@xxxxxxxx
<http://learn.perl.org/>