

Re: Faster way to do this...

Source: <http://coding.derkeiler.com/Archive/Python/comp.lang.python/2005-03/0276.html>

---

From: Robert Kern (rkern_at_ucsd.edu)

Date: 03/02/05

Date: Tue, 01 Mar 2005 18:00:56 -0800

Harlin Seritt wrote:

> Roy, I like what you showed: `nums = [a for a in range(100)]`. My > mistake for not expressing my question as well as I should have. Not > only am I looking for a way to fill in 100 spots (more or less) in an > array errrrr... list, but I'd like to be able to do it in intervals of > 2, 4, 8 etc. as well as other things.

Like

```
nums = range(0, 100, 4)
```

?

--

Robert Kern
rkern@ucsd.edu

"In the fields of hell where the grass grows high
Are the graves of dreams allowed to die."

-- Richard Harter